Official Statement of the Locksmith Guild of Australia in regards to the 'Bumping' issue as broadcast on Channel 9's "A Current Affair" on Monday 4th June, 2007.

The Locksmiths Guild of Australia (LGA) is a professional locksmith organisation, with qualified member locksmiths Australia wide. The LGA and its members are therefore in a good position to comment on the matters raised by "A Current Affair".

The LGA National Council and LGA members are aware of the issue of 'bumping', as it has been widely discussed on various international and national Websites for several years. All our members are qualified to assess any particular needs of their clients, and will be able to give advice on specific requirements in regards to secure locking devices.

LGA members have access to lock-related technical solutions and resources that can mitigate any security threats that 'bumping' may present.

Rod Lothian
LGA National President
